

BC Remembers the First World War: A forum to explore directions, issues and opportunities

Center for Dialogue, 4th Floor Learning and Innovation Centre
Royal Roads University
9am-4pm, April 30, 2014

Parking is available as you enter the campus on your first right. Payment is via the parking machines. We are in the first building as you come down the hill. There is also parking down closer to the lagoon. Please give yourself 20 minutes to park and then enjoy your walk to the Learning and Innovation Centre.

8:30 Come early if you want!! Coffee available!

- Time for putting up posters, brochures, etc. Tables and poster boards available
- Optional: sign up for Hatley Castle grounds tour at 4:15

9am Welcome

- Asma-na-hi Antoine, Nuu-chah-nulth, Toquaht Nation Indigenous Education & Student Services Manager
- Dr Brian White, Acting Dean, Faculty of Management
- Theresa Mackay, Executive Director, BC Museums Association
- Kathryn Molloy, Heritage BC

Introduction: Our day together; lead in to first table topic

Dr Geoffrey Bird, Acting Director, Associate Professor, School of Tourism and Hospitality Management

9:45-10:15 Table Discussion 1: Lest we forget: How do we remember well? Definitions, aim and principles

10:20-10:50 Federal Government Perspective: Keith Black, Project Manager, Veteran's Affairs Canada; Pat Tobin, Regional Director General, Western Region, Department of Canadian Heritage

10:50-11:15 Coffee break Time to review the information tables.

11:15-12:00 Table Discussion 2: Brainstorming: exhibition topics, projects, experiences and/or events

12:00-12:40 Lunch

12:40-1:00 Dunsmuirs and the First World War: One family's story Caroline Posynick, RRU Archivist

1:00-1:20 Remembrance, war and coming home: veterans' perspectives Captain Mike Soley, CD, Infantry Officer and Captain Rob Peel, MMV, CD, Intelligence Officer, both from The Canadian Scottish Regiment and both are Afghanistan Combat veterans

1:20-1:45 A home front story: Internment Camps in British Columbia Andrea Malysh, Program Manager, Canadian First World War Internment Recognition Fund

1:45-2:15 Table Discussion 3: Differing perspectives, issues and controversies: best approaches

2:15-2:45 Refreshment break and networking

2:45- 3:30 Table Discussion 4: Collaboration, Partnerships, Resources and Support required over the next four years

3:30-4:00 Next Steps and Conclusion

4:15 Optional tour of Hatley Castle grounds with Caroline Posynick (sign up sheet available on the day)

Sincere thanks go to our partners and supporters for making this event possible:

PRESENTING PARTNERS

School of Tourism and Hospitality Management

SUPPORTERS

Office of Security and Military Relations

